Summary: On August 22, 2003, David Freeman, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the California Consumer Power and Conservation Financing Authority (CPA), spoke with Pres. Peevey by telephone. Freeman made it clear that he was not talking about the merits of the procurement case – rather, he was communicating on an agency-to-agency basis to advance implementation of the Joint Energy Action Plan. Freeman asked that the CPA peaker proposals be carved out of the proceeding and that the utilities be required to consider them and all parties file reports so that the Commission will have sufficient time to evaluate their impact prior to issuing a procurement decision.

Summary: On August 20, 2003, Keith McCrea, counsel for the California Manufacturers & Technology Association (CMTA), met with David Gamson, advisor to Cmmr. Brown, in San Francisco. Written materials (attached to the notice) were used. McCrea indicated that Southern California Edison Company (SCE) had simply recalculated the shortfall by using a different set of customers and that the SCE approach of attempting to calculate a precise shortfall for certain customers was an approach that the Commission rejected in D02-11-022. McCrea indicated that SCE's own testimony indicated that direct access (DA) responsibility would exceed not $454 million based on a $7.0 billion total liability and, if the total liability were reduced to that set forth in the settlement (approximately $6.3 billion), the resulting DA responsibility would be reduced to a level of approximately $ 392 million.
